While our staff work hard to maintain a safe and harmonious community, we need you to join us in respecting the RC members of every age, race, religion, sexuality, nationality, disability, and gender identity. Your commitment and support will make the RCs a better community.

I wish you all a fruitful learning journey to learn, grow, and maximise your potential to the fullest during your stay at the RCs.

LIVE VIBRANT

With students' health and safety being the highest priorities of the RCs, we initiate new and creative events at both individual RC and inter-RC levels. These events, while keeping social distancing to the strictest standard, will strengthen the bond of RC members beyond physical boundaries.

Some of our signature programmes, such as the Council Chairman Bowl, Master's Meal, are switched online, or a mix of online/offline.

The RCs also host campaigns which raise the awareness of fighting against COVID-19. From distributing fruits and hygiene kits to sport challenges, Residents stay engaged to the RC community.

In addition to participating in RC events, residents can get involved by serving as a student leader at RCs:

Residential Student Leaders

The Residential Student Leaders are undergraduate students who assist RCs to coordinate events, engage the residents through activities and informal interactions, and support the RC Management Team in promoting floor bonding.

Residents' Association

Residents' Associations (RAs) are resident-elected organisations. Each RA is responsible for building a sense of identity across the RC by organising activities. RAs work closely with the RC Management Team in building the RC community.

In 2020/21, Evergreen College has established their Resident Association.

Floor Representatives

Floor representatives are usually elected by residents. They assist the Resident Tutors to coordinate social activities for the floor and serve as the "voice of the floor" by reflecting opinions for building the community.

LIVE GREEN

The Residential Colleges are awarded the highest recognition from the Hong Kong Green Building Council, which recognises our commitment to environmental protection and sustainability.

Explore the comprehensive green features at the RCs!

- 112 units of solar panels are installed to save 4.25% of total annual building energy consumption;
- Rainwater and grey water recycling system reduce 54.8% fresh water consumption;
- Bamboos and a variety of plants cover 42.8% of the RCs;
- 100% green coverage on the roof;
- Bamboo is one of the most environmental-friendly material and is extensively used at the RCs, including the flooring and furniture.

Environmental education is incorporated in the RCs to promote sustainable living style. You can get involved by:

- Joining the Freecycling campaign: to promote the three R's (Reduce, Reuse and Recycle) by enabling student residents to transfer unwanted items to people who can use them;
- Enrolling in general education module "GEN2011 Plants and Civilization" to set up urban farms in the RCs;
- Participating in RC programmes and workshops. Last year we had organised activities like rice harvesting and green cooking workshops.

GETTING ALONG WITH YOUR ROOMMATES

MAKE ROOMMATE AGREEMENTS

Let your roommate know your preferences and expectations as soon as you move in: are you an early or late person? Are you a fan or hater of the snooze button? Do you tidy up your room every now and then? The earlier you let your roommate know these things, the sooner you and your roommate can figure out a mutually beneficial way of living.

RESPECT YOUR ROOMMATE'S PERSONAL BELONGING

Your towels are in the washer and you want to take a shower now. On your roommate's bed, there's a washed towel, clean and comfy. Should you use it?

Do not ruin your roommate's trust by this. Always ask for permission before you borrow, use or take anything from your roommate.

BE CONSIDERATE WHEN BRINGING A VISITOR

You don't want to embarrass your roommate by bringing a visitor over when your roommate is in sleepwear. Therefore, be sure to notify your roommate before inviting a guest.

BE EMPATHETIC

The rule of thumb is to be empathetic and understand that your roommate is a person with emotions and feelings, as well as weaknesses and carelessness.

When disagreements arise, think from your roommate's perspective and try to understand why he/she gets upset. Tell your roommate where your frustration comes from, and that you understand his/her frustration. One is more open to discussion when the other side acknowledges his/her feelings.
