

THE HANG SENG UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

Report on Contribution and Participation in Residential Colleges Life (2021-22)

Background

Residents' positive contribution to the success of Residential Colleges (RC) and participation in residential life is essential in the RC education. We value residents with quality leadership in and strong commitment to organizing activities. We also appreciate residents with quality services provided to fellow residents. It is desirable to recognize residents who have contributed to developing a harmonious, inclusive and dynamic RC community with supportive learning opportunities.

The purpose of this report is to provide positive incentive for residents to actively participate in RC and Joint RC activities and contribute to the Residential Colleges community. An evidence-based approach is adopted to measure the contribution and participation of residents.

The report will evaluate residents' participation in RC. Residents are required to provide a list of activities which they have attended during their RC residency. The information provided will be verified and evaluated by the Masters and/or Resident Tutors with the assistance of the Residents' Association (RA).
