Voices from RC Fellows

Mr SO Chak Man, Lecturer of the Department of Chinese, joined as an RC Fellow in 2018. The reason he affiliates to Fung Yiu King Evergreen College (Evergreen College/the College) is that both he and the College shares the same idea of ‘sustainable living’.

His first contribution to Evergreen College is to support a funded project that promotes sustainable living and Chinese culture ‘禪’. Not only ‘recycling’ as a lot of people perceive, Sustainable living is actually a spiritual pursuit and synchronized with Chinese culture.” Mr SO reckoned.

Mr SO is the Coordinator of the Centre for Business Ethics and Culture. He also supports Liberal Agora (博雅恒大) of SAO. The experience he gained from RC events enriches his contribution to the Liberal Agora. In fact, he has joined various individual RC activities, such as Fai-Chun Writing Workshop, various recycling activities and communal dining. He hopes that more cultural and art-related activities will be organized in the RC in the future. “In Liberal Agora, different kinds of activities such as calligraphy, painting, bamboo flute making workshop and mini-concert, were held. Similar activities could be held in the RC too.” He explained.

Calligraphy is one of Mr SO’s hobbies. “When I was studying in the University, calligraphy was my habit. I always write Fai-Chun to my friends.” He said. (Mr SO planned to join the Fai-Chun Writing Workshop organized by Evergreen College. However, it was suspended due to the latest epidemic development.) Aside from calligraphy, Mr SO loves music as well. He is a member of Hong Kong YMCA Chinese Orchestra. He added “Although cultural and artistic activities cannot make money, everybody needs it as it is a spiritual pursuit which is indispensable to everybody.”

FLASHBACK OF SPECIAL EVENTS

Due to the epidemic, some RC activities were suspended in February and March. Yet, the online singing contest "V-Sing-Along" under The Council Chairman Bowl was hosted as scheduled. Each RC was represented by a group of student residents and each team submitted a clip of their music performance voted by various RC members, including RC Fellows. We are pleased to announce the result as follows:

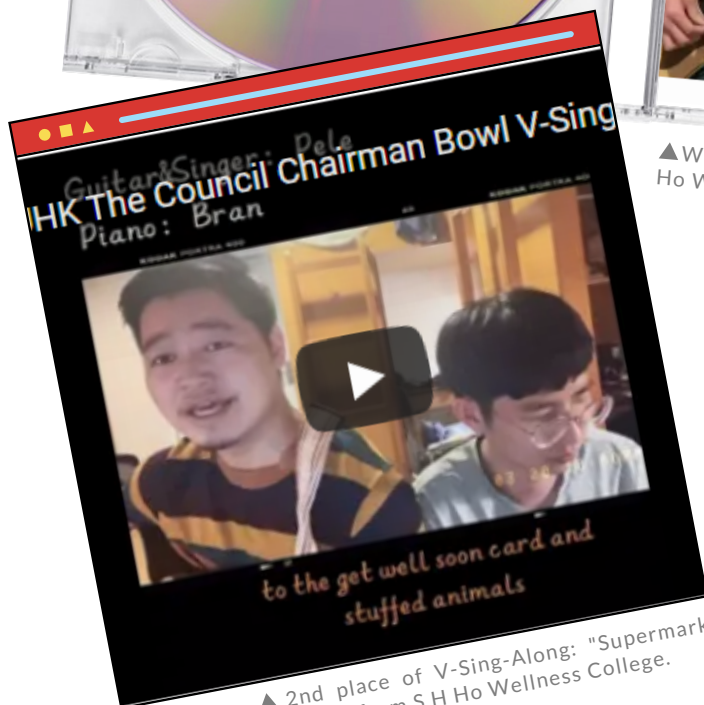

Champion: S H Ho Wellness College
1st Runner up: Patrick S C Poon Amity College
2nd Runner up: Lee Yick Hoi Lun Mosaic College

The fourth competition of The Council Chairman Bowl "Online Board Game Competition" will be held on 26 April 2022. Stay tuned.

▼Enjoy the performances.

▲ Winner of V-Sing-Along: "21 Guns from S H Ho Wellness College.

▲ 2nd place of V-Sing-Along: "Supermarket Flowers" from S H Ho Wellness College.
